

Chris Stanley

Our clients tell us it feels different to work with the team at Ignite Performance? Why? We won't seem like "consultants" because that's not where we've come from - instead, we've all had careers deeply rooted in business with real life experience solving problems and delivering business growth.

Meet Chris:

Chris is a highly experienced, commercially savvy C-level executive with over 25 years of experience in leading business change. He is an expert in the development of business strategy and as well as design and delivery of the associated change program.

Recognised as trusted people leader and coach who can successfully mobilise individuals and organisations through periods of transformational change in culture and business process, Chris is a strong relationship builder and highly capable operational leader.

He has successfully held accountability for one of this region's largest business technology portfolios.

Complimenting Chris' deep practical experience as a business leader, he is supported by a number of academic qualifications and industry accreditations and associations:

- Macquarie Graduate School of Management
 - 2007 Master of Business Administration
 - 2005 Master of Management
 - 2003 Graduate Diploma in Management
- Adelaide University
 - 2001 Graduate Certificate in Management
- Associate Fellow, Australian Institute of Management
- Associate Member, Australian Institute of Human Resources
- Member, Project Management Institute
- Member, Institute of Management Consulting
